FOREWORD

International peace and understanding — this should be the goal of every individual. In these times of great conflict, the world's people must join hands in an immense effort to promote peace. Before the differences which separate nations can be solved, the problems between individuals must be eliminated.

Undoubtedly, many crises will arise in the future as they have in the past. It is highly improbable that these conflicts will abate. However discouraging this prospect of the future, the highest yearning in life is for peace.

The 1969 CHEVRON has tried to make a small contribution to the goal of human understanding. We hope you will enjoy this record of a school year where the search for brotherhood has been a part of our daily life.

DEDICATION

Dedication of CHEVRON 1969 is the least we can do for you. You have led the students for many years through the gateways to success and through the joys and sorrows of adolescence. Through your guidance we have gained understanding. You have dedicated yourself to the betterment of the students and to the prospect that today's educated youth will make tomorrow's future better. What can we do to show you how all the students, parents, and teachers in Albion appreciate you? It is with the deepest respect, admiration, and love that we dedicate CHEVRON 1969 to you — Miss Norma DiLaura.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

When the lights burn late in the main offices, then you may be certain that the Board of Education, under President Laurence Hamilton, are conscientiously considering the continually changing perplexities of our school system. Working long hours without pay, their only reward being the knowledge that their efforts bear fruit in our lives, these men and women consistently strive to better our curriculum, to secure qualified instructors, and to provide the equipment and the facilities essential to the goal of understanding which is the theme of our lives as well as of this book.

In Memoriam

Emerson
Hatch

Emerson Hatch, for many years the Treasurer of our school district, was an alumnus devoted to serving his school, and an ardent supporter of his Alma Mater. We miss him.

William
"Bill"
Connors

"Tom" Narburgh

Their faces still unmarred
When ours are old,
Their stories still unwrit
When ours are told,
Their unfinished page,
In memory's book
We fold.

Steph,
 Latin stinks
 but you sure know
 it. If I never see another Latin book it will be too soon - but you're an OK guy - have lots of whoopee this summer. JLD

They open to us the gates of understanding.

Have a good summer! class this year. It's been a damn, it's been a damn your colony! If you take Latin IF you
 you just get your head
 you're not even close.
 (you're old S.O.B.)
 Mythril!

Scholarship — students — schedules — projects — problems — preparation! These are but part of the daily routine of faculty and administration of our school. Upon these devoted people falls the responsibility for widening the horizons of students, and the challenge of opening their eyes to the demands and expectations of a complex age. To teach "all the children of all the people" to walk with more confidence and dignity, to use their talents creatively, critically, and compassionately that we may better ourselves and serve our fellowmen — these are the tasks of the administrators and teachers.

Miss May,

Now that the time has come to say good-bye there isn't much to say except that I can't tell you how much I've enjoyed both periods Latin III. If I did they'd arrest me! If I get sun stroke during the summer & it effects my mind I might take Latin IV next year and honor you with my booming intelligence! Have fun this summer and don't get "engaged" in anything illegal!

Love,

Sancho

Mr. George Wolfe

There behind the glass door in the third office is a man who bears many burdens on our behalf. At the sight of him we stand not in fear, but with respect. Resting in his hands are the responsibilities of the expanding Albion Central School District. As our School Superintendent, Mr. Wolfe has to confer with the Board of Education, with our faculty, and with the student body. Even though he has many pressing problems of his own, he is never too busy to help us in solving ours. Thank you, Mr. Wolfe!

Mr. Prosperi

A principal has the job of a hundred men. During his brief time with us, Mr. Prosperi earned the respect of staff and students alike by his patient listening to problems, his new ideas, and his amiable solutions to complaints. His generous use of his time in many ways influenced the lives of all of us. Regret at his leaving us mingles with sincerest wishes for success in his new position.

Mr. William Host

Mr. William Host is a very important figure in our school system. Just how important his position was proven to us when, in addition to his regular duties as Administrative Assistant, he assumed in mid-year, the added job of interim Principal! He has many essential tasks to carry out: supervision of teachers, handling federal programs, suggesting textbooks, and assisting in transportation arrangements. Although he walks quietly among us, the student body is grateful to him and takes this opportunity to express our thanks.

Mr. Herbert Dawson

Mr. Herbert Dawson, the man with the ready smile, is the Superintendent of Buildings, Grounds, and Maintenance. In the past year he has successfully worked with the architects in planning and in constructing a new addition to the Primary School. A new baseball diamond was also built with his help. We thank him for making our school more efficient.

Mr. Bond

In a lonely and secluded room high on the third floor of AHS is located the office of one of the busiest men in the school, Mr. Nelson Bond. With his gentle, quiet determination, he works for the benefit of the students' interests. As School Social Worker, he strives to give a greater chance for success to our transient students. In addition, he still finds time to manage the operations of the Audio Visual Department, a most valuable service to instruction in a rapidly changing world.

Of our school system's population, over 2,250 pupils arrive at and depart from our buildings by buses which cover a daily average of more than 1500 miles on forty routes. CHEVRON applauds our drivers, our transportation officials, and our maintenance people whose concern for our students is shown in their safety records and devotion to duty.

SENIOR CLASS

SENIORS: At last, we have attained the heights! What have we achieved? What is a senior? What makes him "tick"? What does he stand for?

S is for sorrow-shared. The Class of 1969 was saddened by the loss of one of our members at Christmas . . . one of our friends,. . . so young . . . so full of life . . . William Connor.

E is for enthusiastic. Our whole class is full of exuberance. This is why the tea, the play, the prom, and class night were all so delightful.

N is for nerve-wracking. Who? Us? Never! Then again, maybe that's the reason so many teachers have turned gray this year — even the new ones. (After all, never before has Mr. Salchak had to put up with physics class quite like the present one. Never before has Miss Nelson had to put on a concert with only 12 boys to balance 50 girls. Never before has Mr. Freson had to put up with human walkie-talkies.)

I is for imaginative — which pretty much describes the whole class. (If only everyone were privileged to hear Twinkles' jokes, or to see Alan fall asleep in class.)

O is for optimistic — which the seniors definitely are, as they look for a bright tomorrow.

R is for resourceful. We had to be! We raised the record low amount on our junior magazine sales!

SENIORS: At last we HAVE attained the heights!

EXCHANGE STUDENT

Jose Moreno

What would this year have been like without our friendly, sweet-talking Spanish conquistador? Jose Luis Cerezo Moreno came to us and to his host family, the Gardners, from Malaga, Spain. From the moment of his arrival, Jose was "one of us". Even though Jose had been told of America's immensity, the size of our country surprised him. He has been delighted by the abundance of goods here. Jose has felt privileged to share the use of our school lab equipment. He has been impressed with the friendliness and with the sense of responsibility of American teen-agers.

Upon returning to Spain, Jose plans to enter the University of Granada.

Because of his friendliness, his sense of humor, and his endearing manner, Jose will always have a special place in our hearts. To forget him would be impossible. He is another link in our chain of understanding.

Senior Play

For a handful of seniors, such immortal phrases as, "Stop that walking around," and, "Prompter, give him his line!" will bring back memories of the "RAMSHACKLE INN", this year's senior play.

The confusion begins when Belinda Pryde, a librarian straight from East Ipswich, and her companion, Commodore Lucius Towser, enter their newly acquired hotel. In the cellar of this rundown hotel the manager has a storeroom full of bootleg liquor hidden until it can be shipped out that evening. Two murders result and are quickly blamed on the previous owner's son who has just arrived home after a year's imprisonment. (Bill had been framed to cover up illegal activities once before, and was not willing to return to jail for the racketeers.) With the help of a famous F.B.I. agent, Miss Pryde searches for clues that will clear Bill's name. Her amateur investigations lead her to discover a kidnapped girl, two bodies that disappear the minute her back is turned, and finally, the real murderer. Miss Pryde's persistent efforts to make her hotel respectable finally lead to the arrest of all the bootleggers.

This mystery farce was thoroughly enjoyed as much by the cast and crew throughout the weeks of practice as by the audience. The success of the play was greatly due to the help of Milo Freson, the director.

Junior Class

As our Junior year began we could see it was going to be a very good year. And indeed it was. The courses were tougher; but we met the challenge. We received our class rings in early September and proudly showed them to anyone who would look. Our magazine sale was a big success and enabled us to have a beautiful prom entitled "Moonlight and Roses". We are grateful to our advisors for their help and guidance and our class officers: Jim Gardner, John Quarantello, Jo Nesbitt, and Joan Vick. Now we look to the future, and to our "grand finale" as Seniors.

Youth For Understanding

Our first Y.F.U. representative in Albion is Frauke, who comes to us from Gross-Ostiem, Germany, and lives with the Archer family. Her favorite delights are peanut butter and marshmallows. She likes "beat" music, and says German popular music is sung in English. She has delighted us with her warm radiance and will take with her the best wishes of the entire student body.

Our Junior Class is proud to help sponsor this new exchange and experience in world friendship.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The class of '71, this year's so-called "wise fools", found themselves laden with responsibilities greater than in previous years. The struggle with advanced subjects became a major part of our lives. Though wrapped up in our studies, we managed to participate in varied school activities ranging from athletics, through debate, music, and service groups. The year holds many memories pleasant to recall; but we are looking towards a future with new horizons of understanding and of achievement.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Our freshman year is an important one for all of us. It teaches us respect for ourselves, as well as for others. It helps us in making new friends, and trains our minds in good study habits which we'll need even more in the following years. It sets us straight on one thing: we're here for a reason, and to make the best use of our time. We learn to appreciate our classmates and to cherish their friendships.

Yes, our freshman year is an important one — one which may become difficult at times, but which can also be a lot of fun. This all depends on the individual.

The last step on the ladder that reaches into high school has been taken by the members of our class. This has been the year that has marked the end of many familiar experiences and the beginning of new and exciting possibilities. Our friendships have become stronger. Our studies have been more advanced. Our activities have increased. We have become better acquainted with many upperclassmen as we have joined with them in planning school affairs, or have taken part in groups open to junior and senior highers. This school year has helped us prepare, through projects, reading, experiments, and practical courses, for the four years of high school that lead to graduation and to our place in the "big, wide, wonderful world."

Seventh Grade

It was in September of 1968 that a group of "kids" entered the door of Albion High School, less noisy than usual in anticipation of their first day at their new school. Polished and shined, they looked almost innocent as they passed through the halls looking for their homerooms.

They liked their new school, with its long halls, lined with lockers, with its cafeteria and three floors of rooms. They found a new sense of freedom they had never before experienced. Yes, it was the many classes at set times that they enjoyed.

There were many extra-curricular activities open to the youngsters. They actively took part in chorus, bands, clubs, sports, and student government. Along with new responsibilities came a great feeling of independence with only their consciences to guide them. Now, at the end of the year, they have tested their newly grown wings. The fledglings hope to fly to places of honor in the hearts of their teachers, and of the student body.

LATIN CLASS

That "Lingua Latina non mortua est!" the 135 Latin students prove. They show, by their interest, that the written wealth of this language, its English derivations, and the cultural values of the Roman era are still relevant. The challenge of Latin lies in concentration on translations, and in broadening our background and in insuring our understanding of the present through comparisons with the past.

FRENCH CLASS

"C'est ci bon," was heard whenever a student would be asked how he or she likes the new French teacher. And it was not only heard with Madame Marcus but also with Mr. Hooper. French classes this year are centering their study on conversation and understanding of the French people and their customs.

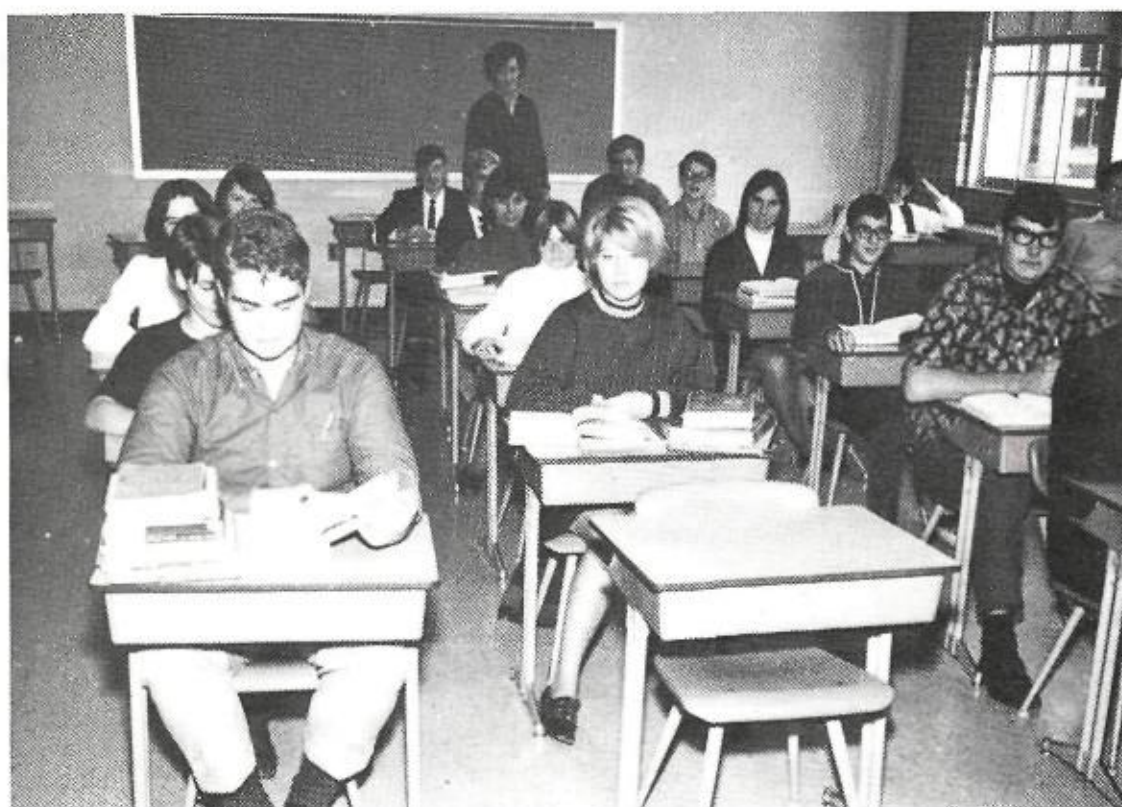

This year a French Club was started and many innovations were made. From the studies this year we gained insight regarding the Frenchman and his country.

GERMAN CLASS

Our school was again privileged to have German in its curricula this year. Frau Koval has been busy with four classes of German, including German III class of eight.

German I students struggled through the daily sentence repetitions and the tests after each unit. The German II class waded through the astonishing amounts of grammar and translations. Students taking German III plowed through the literature of Brecht, Bahr, and others while trying to review for the regents.

The German students wish to say "Danke Schon" to Frau Koval for all she has done for us.

MATHEMATICS

Man's use of mathematics begins before he enters school. Pre-school children use numbers in their everyday games. Teenagers use math everytime they fill up their car's gas tank or buy clothes. Adults would be helpless to keep track of their incomes and expenditures without a broad knowledge of mathematics.

For those who delight in the challenge of thought provoking problems and even for those who do not, Albion High School offers the basic foundation of mathematics that is a must for each human being in today's mechanized world.

ENGLISH

The English teachers this year are giving the students a deeper look into classical literature. Spelling, correct grammar, and good writing technique are always taught, but in addition to these basic skills the students are being exposed to the beauty of literature in both content and sentence structure. Simile, metaphor, and alliteration have become common words in English classes.

Reading good literature builds our vocabulary and deepens our understanding of life itself. Students see the meaning of real virtue and the evils in our society. In this way we choose our values and mature through the experiences of the characters about whom we read.

SCIENCE

The realm of science is around us everyday. Besides learning about the mysteries of the earth and its atmosphere, the science students learn how to think clearly, work tediously and take "a gander" at all of the facts. The well-organized science curriculum aids in helping us to understand some of the universal mysteries which have always been around us. Some day this high school science course will seem simple compared to perplexities that will face us in the future.

GOVERNMENT

This year, a new one semester course was added to the school curricula — advanced government.

Class discussion ranged from the political picture to the civil rights issue to the amount of authority in the family. Films helped to clarify questions concerning our Constitution. Much research was required; the course was concluded successfully.

Considerable credit must be given to Mrs. Mahoney who taught this course for the first time. We hope that she will accept our thanks for her time, superb attitude, and human concern which brand her with a mark of excellence.

READING

In reading classes, taught this year by Miss Brentlinger, students learn to increase their comprehension. To stimulate their interest in the printed word is another aim. Reading is a basic technique and a skill without which no one is competent to live in our society.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Physical Education is an essential phase in the education of every student. Under the guidance of Mr. Stackwick, Mr. Graham, Mr. Mann, and Mrs. Kozloski the students receive the opportunity to maintain physical wholesomeness by vigorous participation in the many activities offered to the student. Sports make up some of the most popular extracurricular activities. The Physical Education instructors deserve sincere commendation for their excellent program, which aids in the preparation of many young people for a useful and prosperous life.

SPANISH

Today communications are very efficient, so no place exists in isolation. People travel extensively, and language communication is most important.

Phrases such as "Como esta usted?" and "Hoy es Martes" are common phrases in Spain, Mexico, and South America.

Because it is so important to understand language to communicate with mankind, modern languages such as Espanol are "muy importante".

ECONOMICS

Today's students, the citizens of tomorrow, need to understand the American economy in order to participate in it as businessmen, workers, consumers, and investors.

Political issues are largely economic in nature, and the effectiveness of government policy depends on whether the electorate makes its decisions on the basis of knowledge or on the basis of ignorance.

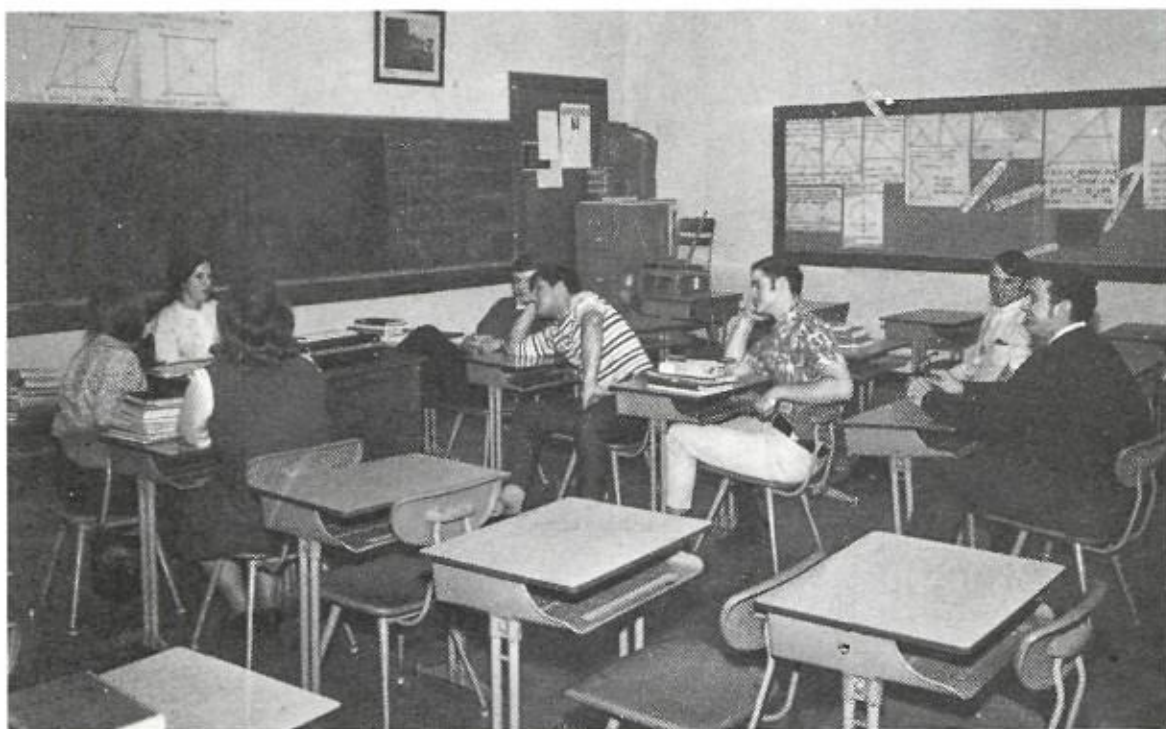

Elective courses in Economics and in Consumer Economics are taught in order to fulfill these premises for our students in Albion.

SPEECH

This year Albion High School has introduced into its curriculum a new and very important subject, speech. This subject is offered as a half year course, meeting two days a week, for which one fourth of one credit is received.

Mr. David Ragusa, a recent graduate of the University of Rochester, was invited to teach the course and has done an exceptional job. He has taught many students how to prepare speeches and helped them to overcome the fear of speaking in front of a group.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

Today's farms are a far cry from the time of the one-team, ten-acre lots our grandparents knew. Today's farms are large electrified marvels needing the skill of a highly trained and dedicated person. The farmer is no longer the dungareed tiller of the soil, but is an active member of the complex financial world — a world demanding universal skills — a world dependent for its life upon the harvests of our nation.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Industrial Arts is a comprehensive course which includes the skills, tools, professions, and problems of America's industry. Under the capable guidance of Mr. Sanford and Mr. Spencer, Albion High School students have the opportunity of taking General Shop, General Wood, General Metal, and General Electricity. These subjects, which comprise the Industrial Arts curriculum, are invaluable in preparing the student for a fascinating and profitable career in tomorrow's industrial world.

DRIVER EDUCATION

In the next few years as more people reach the driving age, there is certain to be an increase in the number of automobiles on the public highways. To compensate for this increase, New York State has enacted a law requiring everyone who desires a license to take Driver Education or attend a driving school.

Mr. "Sam" Salchak is Albion's driving instructor. His patience and perserverance, both in class and in the training car, have helped countless numbers of students to develop the proper attitude and respect for the tremendous power of the machines they control.

HOME ECONOMICS

There are two small rooms on the third floor in which hundreds of girls are becoming future homemakers. There they learn about cooking, sewing, home life, and child care. Learning the proper decorum how to balance a budget and the secrets of good grooming are stressed. As they gradually become better acquainted with themselves they begin to ask the question: "How can I become a better citizen?" As the students progress toward opening doors to the ever-changing world outside, their knowledge grows and their questions are answered.

ART

Webster defines art as "the production or expression of what is beautiful, appealing or of more than ordinary significance." Here at Albion High School, this definition is being fulfilled because students are very active in this culture. All seventh and eighth graders take art for ten weeks. Senior High students may take studio art, advanced art, or mechanical drawing.

In art classes, students learn to appreciate great works of artists. Art is important in our world today because it gives a student an opportunity to express his own ideas and emotions. Its function is to inspire and move its audience to achieve and to contribute to our modern world.

HISTORY

You are there in history — at the signing of the Magna Carta — at the Constitutional Convention — in the middle of a civil rights demonstration. With the aid of many excellent audio-visual techniques, the past comes alive, personalities appear more realistic and the present problems become understandable.

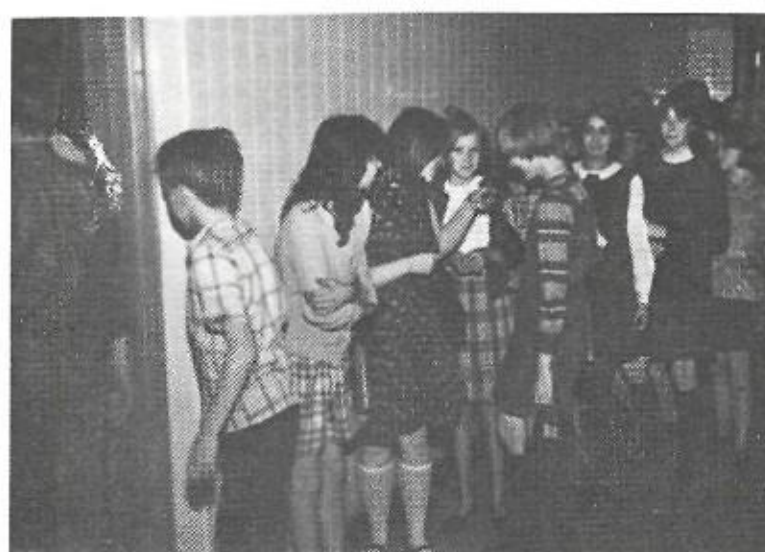

The current trend in history and social studies is to help students comprehend the flow of events. No longer is history a dull subject; now it teems with life as empires rise and fall, governments are overthrown, countries are taken over. Not even the most modern text-book is complete and up-to-date because one day's events can change the world. No responsible citizen can consider himself an informed American without some history background.

STUDENT COUNCIL

With Ron Davis as President, the purpose of the Student Council has been to promote the welfare of the student body, to control student organizations, to direct the activities and to insure the student body of a representation in school government.

The Student Council provides us with realistic election campaigns, the training in which is essential for a democracy. This gives the student a chance to say what he thinks and to express these ideas freely. Also, our leaders provide assemblies, entertainments, and attempt to instill proper attitudes toward orderly conduct and toward responsible citizenship.

Indeed we all benefit from Student Council. A well run efficient school was partly brought about by the council whose members and individuals contributed to this cause.

Never underestimate the power of teaching by experience. Our Student Council is only another teacher to help us fit into society.

SERVICE CLUB

"Walk up those stairs!", "Stay in line please!" and "Where do you belong?" have become familiar phrases to those students who break school rules.

To the younger student it seems as if an upperclassman in a blue coat lurks around every corner just waiting to leap out at him.

The members of our Service Club are dedicated members of the student body who give up their study halls to keep the corridors of A.C.S. a little safer for you. They remind the students who break rules of the penalties and see to it that the rights of each student are protected.

Monitors are your friends. Next time you see one, give him a little smile and — walk!

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society exemplifies four major characteristics: scholarship, leadership, character, and service. All members of the club must have high ideals in each of the categories. To become eligible for membership in the junior year, one must have a 2½ year average of 90 or above. Seniors must have a 3 year average of 85 or above.

The NHS is a service organization for the student body. A very efficient tutoring service has been established for those students requiring extra help in their courses. A bookstore brings excellent reading material to all students. All types of books are available, ranging from required English novels to Peanuts cartoon books.

Last year's junior members unanimously elected these efficient officers:

President – Michael Schoonover
 Vice-President – Donald Melfi
 Secretary – Pamela Kast
 Treasurer – James Theodorakos

CHEVRON STAFF

This year, Chevron 1969 has a new face. Under the supervision of Mrs. Sherman, the staff tried for various innovations. The art work was the accomplishment of Julie Marek, to whom we owe a special thanks. We have attempted to include as many of the newer groups in school as was possible. The Senior editors, Sue Davis and Sam Martillota, and the Junior Editors, Jan Taylor and Jim Bell, are grateful to all who, with their criticisms and help have made the yearbook's publication possible.

LITERARY STAFF

The literary staff of the Chevron is responsible for all of the writings in the yearbook . Students from all grades in high school comprise the staff. Each member is assigned a topic. Many times the students are able to write about topics which interest them personally, such as the clubs of which they are members.

Satisfying the readers of the Chevron is a main goal of the literary staff.

CLARION ECHO

The school newspaper, the Clarion Echo, expanded this year by increasing from four pages to six.

At last the junior high students had a separate part of the newspaper reserved for their news, creative writing, and gossip. More junior high students were active members of the Clarion Echo staff.

Many pictures were included to help to make the newspaper more interesting. A picture on the sports page always seems to make a game come to life once again!

The money to cover the expenses of the paper was acquired by selling refreshments at the football games, and by selling the issues of the paper.

One important change took place regarding the actual processing and printing of the Clarion Echo. Previously the materials for the paper were collected by the editor and taken to a downtown office to be put into the finished product. This year the editors, Wendy Draper and Linda Zarpentine, collected the material and had members of the staff go to the newspaper office to type it, fix the headings for the articles, and make the "dummy" copy of the Clarion Echo. The editors and all other assistants greatly benefitted from this experience.

Miss Gray,
 Latin isn't dead (we sing it every once in a while in chorus). The only reason you could put up this us this year is because you're a great teacher.
 I am looking forward to be taught Latin III by you. God bless. Love,
 Denise

HIGH SCHOOL CHOIR

With our new director, Miss Nelson, the Choir engaged in a variety of events starting with our annual Christmas Concert. Highlights of the year were two appearances on TV where we "met the Millers"! Concerts for Rotary, "sings" for shut-ins, the spring recital, a pops festival, gave an air of excitement to our efforts at sharing our talents and time with others.

Neal and Andy do their thing.

CONCERT BAND

Sleepy-eyed and barely awake, the members of the Concert Band practice each morning under the able direction of Mr. Sherman. Results are always rewarding! In December, the Band participated in the annual PTA Christmas Concert and later played at the County Infirmary. Again this year, we presented our traditional off-Broadway musical VIVA MEXICANA!

We were invited back to the Concert-in-the-Round at the Rochester War Memorial, and to the Alfred Tech Festival of Bands.

Several members took part in All State and in County Bands.

Another highlight of the season was our Spring Concert at which the famous cornetist, Dr. Leonard Smith of Detroit was guest soloist and guest conductor.

Enthusiasm, hard work, and dedication comprise the hallmarks of our group which strives, through music, to make our playing worthy of its name as an international language.

MARCHING BAND

The ACS Marching Band experienced another exciting summer with: new uniforms to brighten the parade-route; the Barre Centennial; numerous Firemen's Parades; the American Legion Championship; the annual State Fair competition. The climax was a memorable performance at the half time show of the Toronto Argonauts pro football game. One of this year's thrills will be a trip to the Indianapolis Five Hundred. Besides interested alumni, our Band Boosters, plus Mr. Harding, Mr. Kleinhans, and Mrs. Miller are regular assistants to our busy director, Mr. Sherman.

FTA

The Future Teachers Club of America is an organization set up for students interested in a teaching career. The members of this club are teachers' aides in the classrooms. Sophomore members help in the guidance offices. Juniors and seniors may help at the Primary school or in any subject of their choice in the High school. Several times during the year members of the teaching profession addressed the group, telling them about their part of the profession.

This year's officers are:

President — Rebecca Archer
 Vice-President — Deborah Snowdon
 Secretary — Dianne Stackwick
 Treasurer — Patricia Bielicki

FUTURE NURSES

The Candy Strippers, as they are affectionately called have had a busy and gratifying year at the local hospitals where their duties were later doubled by the additional wings on the Arnold Gregory Hospital. Many aids worked in the school health office assisting our dedicated advisor, Mrs. Anderson, R.N. The officers who planned the activities were Jeanne Scharping, Deborah Snowden, Susan Webreck, and Diane Szklany. "With a little bit of luck" and with a great deal of help from the members, a spring trip and the annual banquet brought the year to a happy conclusion.

FUTURE FARMERS

This year the Future Farmers have been very busy. We attended a Horticulture Show that consisted of potato judging, a speaking contest and an apple contest. Other contests we have participated in are: soil judging, cattle judging, field and forage crops, vegetable crops, welding and a farm forum.

We have also planned several trips including the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, the Hamburg fair, the Science Youth Program at Cornell and the Pageant of Steam at Canandaigua.

These activities and many more have helped to make '68-'69 a successful year for the Future Farmers.

LIBRARY ASSISTANTS

"Check out this book, please!" "Can you find these magazines?" "Let's straighten the shelves!" These are but a few of the diversified jobs and the requests which keep busy the Library Assistants. Membership is determined by attitude, ability, average, and by interest. Under the guidance of our veteran librarian, Miss Collins, the assistants help keep the reading center of ACS in working order. The big event of the year was being asked to join, and being invited to the Convention of Library Clubs.

AFS

The American Field Service program serves as a link to the understanding of other countries of the world. It is this program that sponsors foreign exchange students every year. These high school students bring to America the customs and beliefs of their own countries. Later they return home with a lasting and, we hope, good impression of America. American students spend either a summer or a whole year in another country gaining a better understanding of the lives of others.

The American Field Service motto is simple, yet it says a lot:

“Walk together, talk together,
O ye people of the earth;
Then and only then shall ye have peace.”

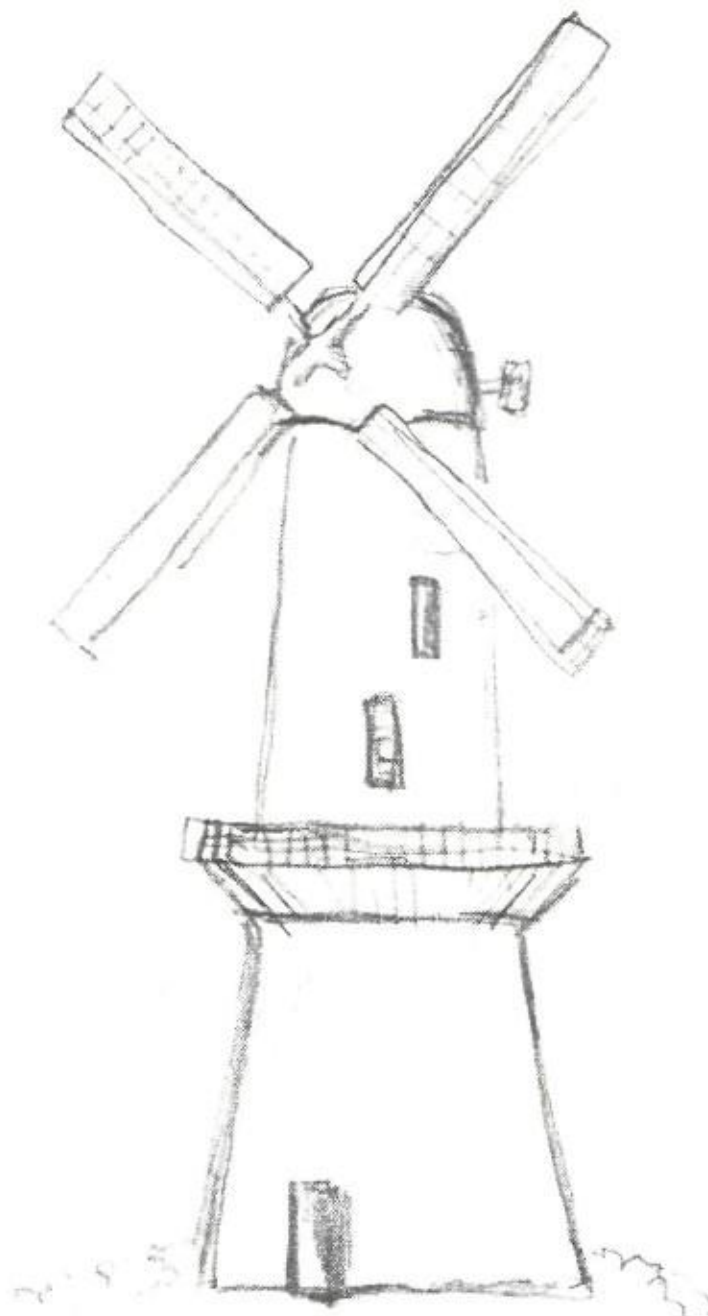

In the troubled times of today, this motto should not only apply to the American Field Service, but to the whole world. It will take more than the work of the AFS to gain world wide understanding and peace.

DEBATE CLUB

Much to Mrs. Baker's chagrin, the four sections of the Debate Club once again remained "one big family".

Unfortunately, for both Mrs. Baker and the club, there aren't five weeks in each month!

The first trial that this club had was trying to find a meeting date for each of the four sections and the general club.

But the worst and saddest of their problems was yet to come. Each year the Drama and Speech Festival at Geneseo is the highlight of the Debate Club year. The usual competition date was drawing near and still there was no word from Geneseo. Two weeks before the usual date they received a letter from Geneseo saying that this year there would be no competition. Disappointed, but not beaten, the Debate Club gathered its forces and held its own Drama and Speech Festival. A dozen neighboring schools were invited and everything went off well. Their work was well rewarded. The Albion Debate Club once again made a fine showing even though they did not compete.

The Debate Club owes alot to Mrs. Baker, to the club's officers, and to section heads.

This year's officers are:

President — Neal Muscarella
 Vice President — Wendy Draper
 Secretary — Mary Sage
 Treasurer — Marcia Downey
 Debate Head — Wendy Draper
 Drama Head — Mary Sage
 Speech Head — Pamela Kast
 Creative Writing Head — Neal Muscarella

AUDIO VISUAL CLUB

Room 334 is where the "big wheels" turn the machines that add interest and color to our classes. Under our officers, Frank Sidari, Nancy Knapp, and Mary Pettit, the Audio Visual Club is organized to help distribute and to check on the many pieces of equipment used in a modern school. Students give up their free periods and sometimes their evenings to supply, and to repair the machines used for classes and curricular activities. This, plus scheduling the equipment and the projectionists, keep all the members busy.

FOOTBALL

Under the excellent coaching of UR graduate David Ragusa, Albion had one of the most hard-driving, efficient football teams in many years. Although the team had some "bad breaks" in its 3-5 season, this year's team showed excellent ability and execution.

In a hard-fought Medina game, well backed by Albion rooters, the team played hard and well, with smooth opening plays and some spectacular pass receptions; but the game broke open in Medina's favor in the latter minutes of play.

Outstanding seniors guiding the team this year were: Mark Hudson, John Leddon, Joe Martillotta, Jim Theodorakos, Ray Pettine and Rich Cook. Bart Salisbury proved to be one of the most capable, professional-looking quarterbacks Albion has ever had, guiding Albion's offense with timely, well-called plays. Led by John Leddon and Rich Cook, the defense was aggressive and staunch. The most outstanding Junior was Bruce Good, named to the Niagara-Orleans All League Team. On the All League second team was Jim Theodorakus, while Joe Martillotta, John Leddon, John Quarantello, and Bart Salisbury were given honorable mentions.

With the school behind Coach Ragusa and his assistant, Frank Van Appledorn, and the fine nucleus of talent for next year in John Quarantello, Jim Gardner, Bruce Good, Mike Salisbury and Steve Gavenda, Albion can look forward to a winning season next year.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Well, once again the statistics proved that nice guys don't finish first! There just wasn't a nicer team in the league than Albion!

The Albion five may have lacked a little in the way of wins but they certainly lacked nothing in the way of effort. Their personal pride and determination produced unrivaled enthusiasm with every bounce of the ball. And, in response, the student body never let the team down.

The scoring for this year's team was handled chiefly by co-captains Ralph Sanders and Jim Theodorakos. Bob Easterling and Bruce Good controlled the rebounding department while Newell Allport handled the fouling. As the season progressed and injuries began to take their toll, the starting team was adequately backed by John Quarantello, Henry Pieniaszek, Dave Hyde, Jose Moreno, Mike Ryan, Dan Mathews, and Eddie Presley.

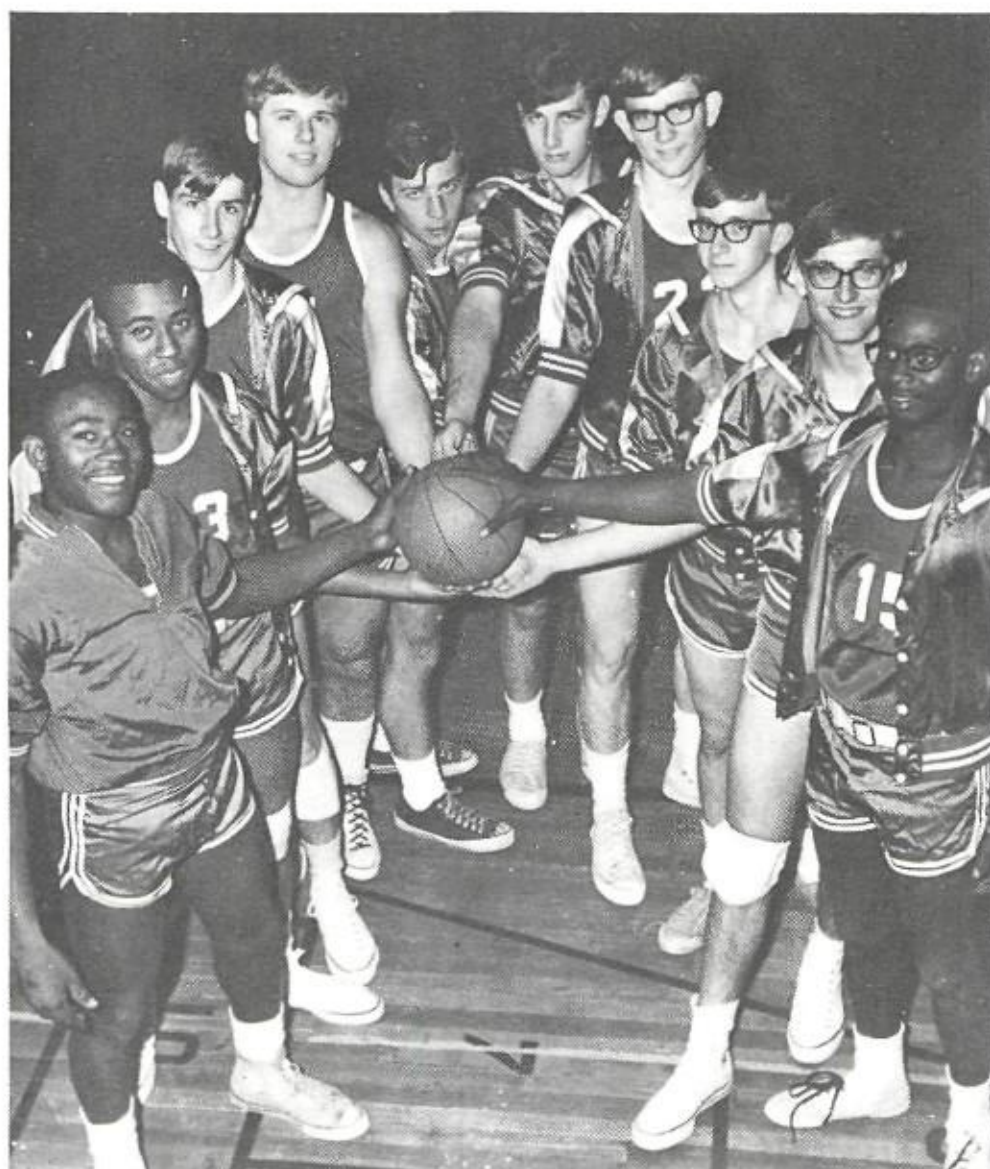

Coach Stackwick and the players who worked hard to provide the exciting games, thank the students for their support and the cheerleaders for their pep and enthusiasm.

With the desire and perseverance displayed by our athletes, it is evident that soon they will be enjoying new fruits of victory and personal achievement which are far more important than winning a basketball game.

Excelsior!

SEVENTH AND EIGHTH GRADE BASKETBALL

Not only does the gym reverberate to the thunder of running feet of the energetic high school athletes, but also to those of the junior high scrimmagers as well. The dream of being the star of the game, or high scorer, or best-at-rebounds, plus good teamwork is the passion of the seventh and eighth graders. In tournaments with other schools, and in the experience gained from playing each other, from practice, and from the efforts of the coaching staff, these boys hope to improve their playing techniques and to learn good sportsmanship.

The cheers of their loyal classmates still echoing in their ears, the end of a busy season is only the beginning of hopes of making the "big-time" as JV or as Varsity players in the Big Sports World of Tomorrow. For these boys, the basketball court is their little stage on which they practice for the drama to come.

THE WRESTLERS' RECORDS

This year was a good one for the Albion wrestlers under our capable new coach Mr. David Anderson, who trained the Albion Grapplers to a 5-6 1 Win Loss record. Albion placed fourth in the final league standings and had three individual champions within the league. John Grillo, who ended the season with a 12-2 record was the Niagara-Orleans champ in the 95 pound class. He placed fourth in the Class-A Sectionals at Gowanda.

Joe Martillotta, league champ in the 218 pound class ended the season with a 17-1 win record. Joe lost in the Class-A finals to take second place at Gowanda.

Our "big" champion was John Drisdon, who won the league's Outstanding Wrestler Award. John, after winning the sectionals, went on to become the best in the 175 pound class, participating in the State Semi-Finals at R.I.T. Till the semi-finals, John had an undefeated season and in four years brought Albion the thrill of 66 wins to only 6 losses.

We must not forget that, in order for the team to win, the entire squad contributed to the outcome. First-stringers, Willie Drisdon, Chuck Lafferty, Lonnie Green, Steve Rustay, John Knight, Jim Gardner, and Jerry Vandetti fought winning matches while the second-stringers' efforts provided the boost and morale for a successful year.

Grillo, Martillotta, Drisdon

A.C.S. IS PROUD OF ALL HER GOOD SPORTS, BUT PAYS SPECIAL TRIBUTE TO OUR SECTIONAL CHAMPS. John Drisdon gave us the final thrill by making it all the way to the state semi-finals at R.I.T.

CHEVRON, in tribute to a leader who embodied the best of the American spirit:

DWIGHT DAVID EISENHOWER

*"For I am now ready to be offered; and the time of my departure is at hand.
I have fought the good fight.
I have finished my course.
I have kept the faith."*

April, 1969

SPANISH AND GUITAR CLUB

English, Spanish, French, and German are some of the main modern languages in the world today. In our school, students participate in these foreign language clubs which help us understand the people of these countries. We learn their customs and cultures through such activities and we realize that people are much the same in all parts of the world.

CHEVRON salutes all activities which enhance international good-will.

ALBION

"May thy sons ne'er forget thee
 As to thy name we ever will be loyal.
 And through all our days
 We will sing thy praise
 In times of victory or in times of toil.
 We'll cheer for
 Albion
 And our songs will re-echo
 As high above the sea our banners fly.
 All our memories
 Speak of love for thee
 Dear Old Albion!"

EPILOGUE

"Something there is that doesn't love a wall,
That sends the frozen ground-swell under it."

(Robert Frost)

Chevron of 1969 hopes our book has contributed to the breaking down of the walls of misunderstanding, and has helped to build reconciliation among the world's people.
